Sen. Knowland Battling for His Labor Bill

Defeat Considered Almost Certain for Republican's Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—Facing almost certain defeat, Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) fought on today in an effort to write far-reaching labor provisions into a bill aimed at regulating employee welfare and pension funds.

He was beaten Friday night in four efforts to put what he called "labor bill of rights" provisions into the relatively noncontroversial bill. His amendments were defeated by margins ranging from 16 to 20 votes.

But Knowland, the Republican Senate leader, told newsmen he would offer at least six more amendments today.

The first test of the day was due to his proposal to bar any discrimination by a labor union against any worker because of race, sex, religion or age.

The bill under consideration would require reporting and full disclosure on operations of welfare-pension funds. It would provide criminal penalties for any false reporting of such funds.

SEVERAL OTHER senators also planned to add various amendments. And the Eisenhower administration wants its labor proposals considered, too.

But most Senate Democrats and about 10 Republicans backed Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas in opposing any broadening of the welfare-pension fund bill. Sen. Lausche of Ohio was the only Democrat who voted Friday with Knowland.

The Democratic-led coalition argued that far-reaching labor proposals should not be considered until hearings have been held and until the proposals have been given detailed study in committee.

Democratic leaders promised that hearings will start next month and that broad labor legislation will be brought to the Senate floor in June.

Knowland said consideration of his amendments might be interrupted to permit Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) to offer some of the Eisenhower administration's labor recommendations as proposed additions to the bill.

Sens. Mundt (R-SD) and Curtis (R-Neb) also served notice they planned to call up amendments.

2 Aircraft Companies Get Union Warning

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two big aircraft firms today had notices of contract termination from United Auto Workers locals representing 27,000 workers.

The notices, submitted Friday, mean the locals could strike after May 7. But the union says it still wants to negotiate a new contract.

Local 148 with 13,000 members advised Douglas Aircraft at Long Beach that its contract would end at midnight May 7. A similar notice was given North American Aviation in Los Angeles by Local 887, representing 14,000 workers.

North American's Columbus plant was also served notice of contract termination. Robert Bateman, president of United Auto Worker Local 927, said:

"We are willing to continue negotiations until May 7 to reach a decent and honorable agreement acceptable to North American workers."

Union members have been working under an extension of the contract since March 5 while negotiations continue. The Columbus and West Coast locals gave negotiators the right to call a strike in a March 30 vote.

More Ohio Education Facilities Are Urged

MANSFIELD (AP)—Ohio should establish vocational training schools, community colleges, industrial development councils and state advertising. Michal V. Di-Salle said here Friday.

"It has been demonstrated" the Democratic candidate for the gubernatorial nomination said, "that there is a definite correlation between unemployment and the degree of education."

After 34 Years, Tom Jenkins Quits Congressional Race

WASHINGTON (AP)—The name of Thomas A. Jenkins, as it has for the last 34 years, will be on the May 6 primary ballots in the 10th Congressional District.

But this time it won't mean anything. Tom Jenkins, 78, tired and ill, is through after more than a third of a century as a congressman.

From Bethesda (Md.) Naval Hospital, Jenkins announced his retirement at mid-afternoon Friday. It was too late to remove his name from the Republican primary ballot.

Jenkins' withdrawal from the 10th District congressional race leaves the field to Homer (Pete) Abele, McArthur attorney and former member of the Ohio House, and Mayor John H. Weis of Lancaster.

Jenkins, an Ironton resident, never was any great proponent of congressional opinion.

Mass Chute Drop Delayed

Bad Weather Causes 24-Hour Postponement

FT. CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP)—Bad weather caused a 24-hour postponement in the mass parachute jump planned for dawn in war games here.

Five thousand paratroopers were on hand for the assault.

Maj. Gen. W. C. Westmoreland, commander of the 101st Airborne Division, had planned to lead the assault by jumping 20 minutes ahead of his men, to test the wind and weather.

Five men of the 101st were killed and 155 were injured when they were caught in capricious ground-level winds Wednesday.

On hand for the preliminary jump into the Sukhono drop zone with Westmoreland were Capt. Stillman E. Mazeltine of Custer, S. D., his aide, and Capt. Jack Becker of Lakeshire, Miss., a staff officer.

In planning to jump ahead of his 5,000 men, Westmoreland, who also made the jump (his 70th) Wednesday, said that "if I find it safe, the troops will follow; if not, the mass jump will be called off."

THE KILLER winds of Wednesday, noted only at ground level, were clocked at a velocity of 13 knots.

Today's jump, set for 5:10 a. m., was postponed shortly after daybreak.

Most of Wednesday's casualties occurred in the rough terrain of the Sukhono zone, one of many in the remote areas of this sprawling military reservation on the Kentucky-Tennessee line where the current war games are being conducted.

Navy Plans New Vanguard Firing

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Navy expects to make another attempt to launch a Vanguard rocket housing a 20-inch satellite next week after two setbacks caused by technical problems.

One scientific source said the shoot may be tried as early as Monday.

The launching of the three-stage rocket was "scrubbed" early Friday morning and again Friday night when faults were discovered in Vanguard's complex mechanism during the countdown.

YOUNGSTOWN (AP)—Glenn W. Dolvin, 30, has been sentenced to 20 years in Ohio Penitentiary for the $31,500 robbery of a branch bank in Boardman Aug. 16.

Ohio Judge Sends Baby To Kentucky

COLUMBUS (AP)—An infant boy who has been "neglected and shipped around too much" in his short lifetime is being turned over to Kentucky state welfare officials. The infant, 22-month-old Thomas Jefferson Velich, was ordered sent to Kentucky by Franklin County Juvenile Judge Clayton W. Rose Friday.

At the same time, Judge Rose denied the parents' request for the return of their son. Rose said they have been "extremely negligent" about his care.

In turning the child over to Kentucky officials, the judge said the family residence is in Kentucky, even though the parents, Dany and Barbara Velich, are living in Detroit.

Velich, a $25-a-month parttime truck driver for the last four months, had told authorities:

"I would like to have the child back. I admit it's not much of a job, but I'm doing my best."

The baby came to the attention of Franklin County authorities March 27 when his grandmother, Mrs. Nettie McCoy, reportedly tried to give him to a stranger in a Columbus drugstore. County authorities said the grandmother admitted at the time she tried to give the child away but that she later denied it.

Mrs. McCoy said she stopped in Columbus on the way from her home in Phelps, Ky., to Detroit, where she planned to turn the baby over to its father.

500,000 Exhaust Idle Pay Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor Mitchell says more than 500,000 workers have exhausted their unemployment compensation benefits. He urged speedy enactment of an administration plan for extra payments "so these workers... may have money to live on."

Mitchell's statement was issued Friday as the Labor Department's Bureau of Employment Security reported that during the week ended April 12 unemployment among insured workers rose that week to a record 8.1 per cent.

Some 43 million workers, about two-thirds of the nation's labor force, are covered by unemployment compensation.

The total of insured unemployment, representing workers on the sidelines at least a week, was about 100,000 bigger in mid-April than in mid-March.

These data indicated that the over-all unemployment total for April probably will be close to the 5,200,000 level of March. Normally at this time of the year unemployment drops sharply as outdoor work picks up.

THE LABOR Department report also showed that during the week ended April 19 the number of new benefits declined by 15,400 to 446,400. This is a smaller-than-usual decline for this season.

In his statement, Mitchell said the report makes it "all the more urgent for Congress to enact legislation extending the duration of unemployment insurance payments for those who have exhausted their benefits."

The administration has proposed a temporary 50 per cent extension of the period in which eligible workers may draw unemployment benefits. In states which allow 26 weeks of such payments, the Eisenhower plan would mean an additional 13 weeks of benefits.

The Democrats are backing a broader plan which would take in many workers not now covered by the federal-state program. Eisenhower and some members of Congress have said the Democratic plan amounts to a dole.

C. O. Leist Dies in Home

Health Commissioner Retired in January

Clyde O. Leist, 76, of 541 N. Court St., local business man and city official, died today at 2 a. m. in his residence following a lengthy illness.

Mr. Leist operated a grocery store here for 38 years. He also served as City Health Commissioner for several years, retiring from office in January of this year.

He was born in Washington Twp. Oct. 28, 1881, a son of Andrew A. and Sally Ann Heffner Leist. In 1907 he was married to Clara Maude Will who survives.

Other survivors are a son, Ervin T. Leist, who is superintendent of Circleville Public Utilities. He was in Texas at the time of his father's death.

A daughter, Ellen A. Leist, resides at the home on N. Court St. Mr. Leist is survived by three brothers, Herbert, Walter and Milton, all of Washington Twp., a sister, Mrs. Ollie Stout, Circleville, and one granddaughter, Linda Leist.

Funeral arrangements under the direction of the Mader Funeral Home, are incomplete.

U.S. Suicide Rate Said on Decline

GENEVA (AP)—The World Health Organization reports the suicide rate is decreasing in the United States but American whites take their own lives three times more often than American Negroes.

The WHO said the over-all U.S. rate dropped from 114 per million in 1950 to 102 in 1955. The American statistics are well below the top suicide rate reported from Europe and Asia.

West Berlin had 342 suicides per million in 1956. The lowest rates reported in 1956 were in the Irish Republic, with 26 per million.

Sensenbrenner Lauds Platform

CLEVELAND (AP)—Columbus Mayor Maynard E. Sensenbrenner says he would not want to be governor "unless I could fight for labor, management, utilities and everybody else—and against all of them when they're wrong."

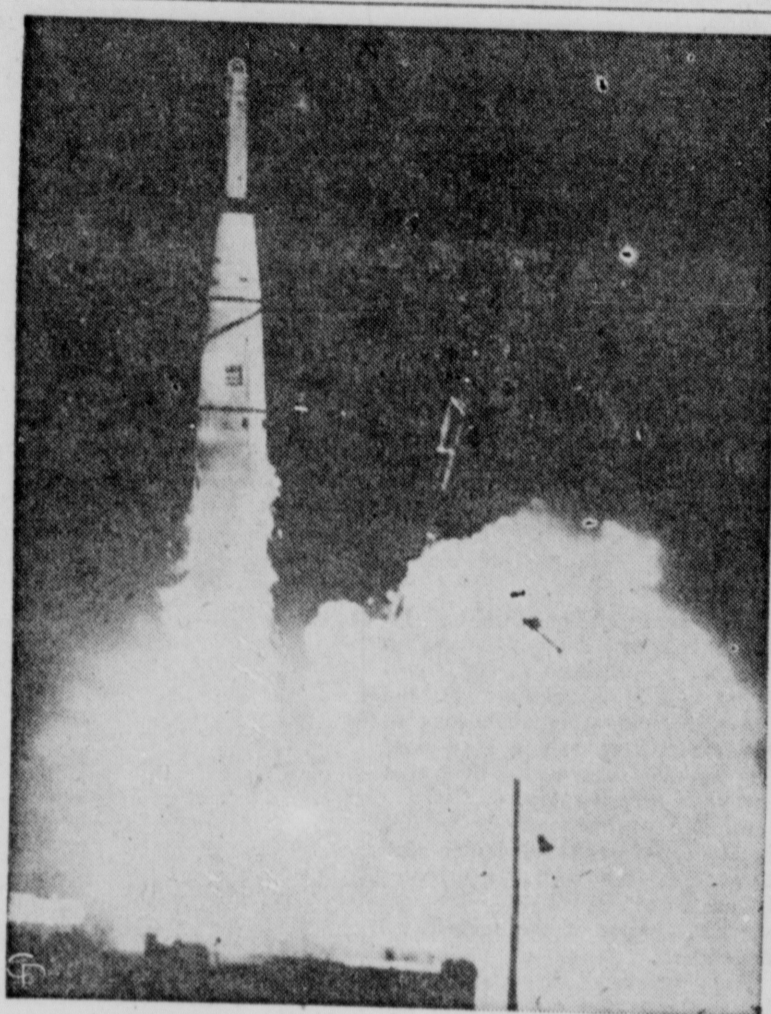

He outlined his own platform, favoring Civil Rights programs, the payment of supplemental unemployment benefits, restoration of a movie censorship board and higher salaries for teachers at a press conference Friday. Sensenbrenner called it "the most outstanding program ever submitted by a candidate for governor."

Girl, 3, Is Rescued From Abandoned Well

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Frantic rescuers Friday night dragged a sobbing three-year-old girl from the narrow abandoned well where she had been trapped for an hour.

Susie Najera plunged into the abandoned well while playing in her back yard. Her father had uncovered it to fill it in as a danger to his children.

The tot was trapped in a standing position.

O. K. AS MOON MISSILE—Smoke and flame whoosh from the combined Thor and second-stage Vanguard missile as it starts spaceward on what was believed to be a successful "moon shot" test at Cape Canaveral, Fla. Scientists wanted to see if an ICBM nose cone could re-enter the earth's atmosphere at more 15,000 mph without being disintegrated by friction. That means such a missile might be shot to the moon and returned. It also means an ICBM with an atomic warhead can reach a target without being destroyed en route.

Top Military Brass Gets Warning from McElroy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense McElroy has served notice that generals and admirals who don't work for military unity may as well forget about extra stars and choice assignments.

McElroy ordered Friday that all future recommendations for promotion of officers to three and four star rank be submitted to him rather than directly to the President. This directive also would apply to assignment of officers in those ranks.

The order, another move aimed at curbing interservice rivalries, is part of President Eisenhower's defense reorganization plan. That provision, however, didn't require congressional approval.

Under the new procedure, the Joint Chiefs of Staff must express their views on the assignment or promotion of all officers in the two top ranks.

In addition, when civilian secretaries of the three services grant such recommendations they must include a statement that the officer has demonstrated "the capacity for dealing objectively, without extreme service partisanship, with matters of the broadest significance to our national security."

U.S. May Ask Arctic Aerial Inspection

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United States was reported today planning to renew pressure on Russia for East-West aerial inspections in the Arctic against surprise attacks.

Usually reliable diplomatic sources said the U.S. delegation will ask for a Security Council meeting Tuesday to discuss an inspection resolution.

Aerial inspection of the Arctic was part of a Western disarmament package offered to the Soviet Union last summer in the U.N. Disarmament Commission. Russia turned it down and has refused since then to discuss disarmament in the U.N.

Renewal of the Arctic open skies offer at this time apparently would be the West's answer to Soviet accusations against the United States last week.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko charged in Moscow April 18 that Arctic flights toward Russia of U.S. bombers with nuclear weapons were provocative and might touch off World War III.

A Soviet resolution presented in the Security Council last Monday asked Washington to stop the flights. When Russia failed to win any support for its resolution, Soviet Delegate Arkady Sobolev withdrew it. The Soviet complaint remains on the Council agenda, however.

Friday Was Rough Day For Jimmy Huddleston

CINCINNATI (AP)—Jimmy Huddleston had a rough day Friday and it all started because he fell off a scooter and hurt his head.

A motorist offered to take Jimmy, 6, and his father to the hospital, but enroute the car was involved in a collision, and Jimmy added a broken knee.

His father suffered a broken arm and the volunteer, Mrs. Rose Patterson, 27, suffered back injuries.

Slayer Seeks Money after Prison Release

Son of Denverite Summons Neighbors; Gunman Is Captured

DENVER (AP)—A wealthy lawyer, his wife and daughter were killed Friday night by a ne'er-do-well relative, bent on getting money four days after his release from a federal prison.

David F. Early, 28, was caught by neighbors moments after the rifle shootings climaxed a four-hour reign of terror in the ranch-style home of Merrill A. Knight in swank Greenwood Village. The suburb is 14 miles southeast of downtown Denver.

Knight, 45, former president of the Denver Bar Assn., his wife, Regina, 43, and their 15-year-old daughter Karen died in Early's futile efforts to flee with $187.

Kenneth Knight, 18, son of the lawyer, escaped although Early fired one shot at him.

Early, freed from the Leavenworth, Kan., Federal Prison last Tuesday, was booked at the Arapahoe County jail for investigation of murder. Dist. Atty. Barney O'Kane said he will file charges next week. O'Kane said Early wrote out a brief confession in longhand after dictating a lengthy statement to a shorthand expert.

O'KANE SAID Early, who described himself as a nephew of Knight's, had served aggravated robbery terms at Leavenworth and Canon City, Colo., prisons.

"He's been in trouble all his life," O'Kane said.

Early readily talked to reporters and officers about the shootings. He even took part in a taped recording, describing the crime, for later broadcast on a Littleton radio station.

A reporter asked Early why the Knights had been shot.

"I needed money," Early answered.

"What does anybody need money for?"

This was the sequence of events, told by Sheriff Charles Foster:

Early came to Denver after his release from the Kansas prison and registered at the YMCA.

About noon Friday he had a taxicab take him to the Knight residence. No one was home, but he entered through a basement door. He waited about two hours until Mrs. Knight returned.

Early brandished a .22 caliber rifle and forced her to her bedroom where he bound her hands and feet. Mrs. Knight told him to get $60 from her purse.

EARLY WANTED more money and decided to await Knight's return from work. Meanwhile, the children, Karen and Kenneth, returned from school. Early forced Karen into her bedroom and tied her up.

Kenneth was bound with silk stockings at the foot of his mother's bed.

Knight returned home about 5:30 or 5:45 p. m. Early forced Mrs. Knight to call to him and when he entered her bedroom Early threatened him with the gun and forced him to his bedroom.

Knight was ordered to bind his feet with gauze. Early then bound Knight's hands after taking about $127 from his wallet.

5 Children Die In Home Blaze

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—Five children perished Friday night in a fire that swept a crowded two-story frame home in Erie's East End. Two other youngsters were burned, one critically.

Fourteen children under 15 years, the members of four families, were sleeping when the blaze broke out.

The home was occupied by Mrs. Anna Williams, her four daughters and their children. Identified as dead were Marvin, 11 months; Terena, 1; Alphonse, 11; Rosetta, 8, and Sherod, 8 months.

Kentucky Adds 'Backward' Time

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Kentucky will have four time standards Sunday: Central Daylight, Central Standard, Eastern Standard and "backward standard."

The latter is the tongue-in-cheek answer of music studio operator Jerry Diggins to the number of time standards in the state. His studio clock runs counterclockwise and has the numbers painted in that order.

But it's accurate, even if confusing, he says.

Mostly fair today and tonight with scattered frost likely tonight. Sunday, partly cloudy. Little change in temperature. High today in the 50's. Low tonight, mostly in the 30's.

Scientists and teachers in other fields now are seeking political asylum in West Berlin's refugee centers at the rate of several a day.

East Germany's Stalinist regime touched off the exodus with its sweeping effort to purge western influences from the educational system. Previously technical schools were allowed to carry on pretty much in the traditional manner as long as they kept turning out trained manpower.

Many teachers have chosen to flee westward rather than bow to demands that they become Communists, abandon religious affiliations, and pressure students into supporting the satellite regime.

Refugees say the Reds have failed to buy the loyalties of many professors despite large salaries and comforts lavished on them. Salaries paid scientists and teachers in East Germany average well above those in West Germany.

Top Military Brass Gets Warning from McElroy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense McElroy has served notice that generals and admirals who don't work for military unity may as well forget about extra stars and choice assignments.

McELROY ISSUED the directive after ending four days of testimony before the House Armed Services Committee on Eisenhower's controversial reorganization proposal. McElroy indicated he will stick to administration objectives for more centralization of authority in the defense forces.

Committee Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) said the hearings will resume Monday with testimony from Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko charged in Moscow April 18 that Arctic flights toward Russia of U.S. bombers with nuclear weapons were provocative and might touch off World War III. A Soviet resolution presented in the Security Council last Monday asked Washington to stop the flights. When Russia failed to win any support for its resolution, Soviet Delegate Arkady Sobolev withdrew it. The Soviet complaint remains on the Council agenda, however.

As the 52-year-old Finnish-born draftsman, an admitted ex-Communist, was returned here Friday at government expense from Helsinki, the Immigration Service was putting into Federal Court records affidavits designed to refute Federal Judge Edward P. ## Kentucky Adds 'Backward' Time

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Kentucky will have four time standards Sunday: Central Daylight, Central Standard, Eastern Standard, and "backward standard."

The latter is the tongue-in-cheek answer of music studio operator Jerry Diggins to the number of time standards in the state. His studio clock runs counterclockwise and has the numbers painted in that order.

But it's accurate, even if confusing, he says.

Slayer Seeks Money after Prison Release

Son of Denverite Summons Neighbors; Gunman Is Captured

DENVER (AP)—A wealthy lawyer, his wife and daughter were killed Friday night by a ne'er-do-well relative, bent on getting money four days after his release from a federal prison.

David F. Early, 28, was caught by neighbors moments after the rifle shootings climaxed a four-hour reign of terror in the ranch-style home of Merrill A. Knight in swank Greenwood Village. The suburb is 14 miles southeast of downtown Denver.

Knight, 45, former president of the Denver Bar Assn., his wife, Regina, 43, and their 15-year-old daughter Karen died in Early's futile efforts to flee with $187.

Kenneth Knight, 18, son of the lawyer, escaped although Early fired one shot at him.

Early, freed from the Leavenworth, Kan., Federal Prison last Tuesday, was booked at the Arapahoe County jail for investigation of murder. Dist. Atty. Barney O'Kane said he will file charges next week. O'Kane said Early wrote out a brief confession in longhand after dictating a lengthy statement to a shorthand expert.

O'KANE SAID Early, who described himself as a nephew of Knight's, had served aggravated robbery terms at Leavenworth and Canon City, Colo., prisons. "He's been in trouble all his life," O'Kane said.

Early readily talked to reporters and officers about the shootings. He even took part in a taped recording, describing the crime, for later broadcast on a Littleton radio station.

A reporter asked Early why the Knights had been shot.

"I needed money," Early answered. "What for?" the reporter asked, and Early answered: "What does anybody need money for?"

This was the sequence of events, told by Sheriff Charles Foster: Early came to Denver after his release from the Kansas prison and registered at the YMCA.

About noon Friday he had a taxicab take him to the Knight residence. No one was home, but he entered through a basement door. He waited about two hours until Mrs. Knight returned.

Early brandished a .22 caliber rifle and forced her to her bedroom where he bound her hands and feet. Mrs. Knight told him to get $60 from her purse.

EARLY WANTED more money and decided to await Knight's return from work. Meanwhile, the children, Karen and Kenneth, returned from school. Early forced Karen into her bedroom and tied her up.

Kenneth was bound with silk stockings at the foot of his mother's bed.

Knight returned home about 5:30 or 5:45 p. m. Early forced Mrs. Knight to call to him and when he entered her bedroom Early threatened him with the gun and forced him to his bedroom.

Knight was ordered to bind his feet with gauze. Early then bound Knight's hands after taking about $127 from his wallet.

Early delayed his departure waiting for darkness. During that period he walked from

NOBODY MADE A NICKEL

Too many pressing responsibilities in the Lord's work. The congregation couldn't afford to have its church painted.

But painted it was!

That was a glorious Saturday—no picnic or ball games, just hours of hard work. And what with the paint supplied at cost by a local dealer, and the brushes loaned by the very painter who might have hoped for the contract—nobody made a nickel!

But the remarkable thing is that nobody in town thought all this remarkable...

You know Christianity has had a deep influence on the life of a community when we begin to take for granted the zeal and sacrifice of Christian neighbors. The next step is to add our strength and faith to theirs in the worship and work of the Church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. ## Meet Propaganda Head On

Much of the propaganda of the communists has been based on the Big Lie. Consequently it is hardly surprising that many persons should have the notion that propaganda is necessarily a phony operation and should not be employed by the United States. Actually, propaganda is merely the propagation of ideas.

The nations enemies in the cold war have taken the propaganda offensive with the Big Lie, and it is an attack which should be met head on. It would be useless to try to counter with a bigger lie. There is no reason—aside from its moral aspects—to suppose that anyone could outlie the Russians.

The more promising alternative, then, is to counter the lie with the truth, big and little. Sometimes the cumulative effect of a lot of little truths may be more effective than a few big truths. Here and there some of the smaller truths have been used quite effectively.

An example occurred recently in Libya, where American airmen from the Wheelus Air Base in Tripoli staged a big rodeo. The Arabs are great horsemen and no wonder. All the thoroughbreds racing in America and Europe trace their ancestry back to Arabian equine bloodlines. U. S. Western movies are popular in Arab lands, especially when they feature feats of horsemanship. So the rodeo went over big, and nobody thereabouts is shouting "Americans, go home!" Americans can ride; they must be pretty good guys. Arab moppets are learning to say "Ride 'em, cowboy," and "Draw, pardner."

Radio Cairo and Radio Damascus and Radio Moscow are blanketing the area with big lies about American imperialists and warmongers. But they cannot compete with the propaganda of bronco busting, wild bull riding, and buckboard races. Arabs find it hard to believe that good horsemen can be bad imperialists.

This isn't propaganda? Sure it is. Most good propaganda starts with deeds, and the special arts of the propagandists merely are employed to drive the point home home deftly.

Balance of Arms Maintains Peace

By George Sokolsky

What is called peace is being maintained by a balance of arms. But a balance of arms means a constantly increasing and devastating bugetary rise in costs for all countries. No country on Earth can afford its present budget. No people can afford the taxes they have to pay, even in those countries where tax swindling is fashionable.

The current economic depression in the United States is due to two causes:

1. The psychological mass reaction to the high cost of living and high taxes;

2. The decision of large numbers of consumers to postpone buying of what might be called household capital goods, such as automobiles, refrigerators, electrical gadgets, etc., which are out-priced.

Opposition to a tax cut now—with emphasis on now—is that such a cut will not be sufficient to prime the pump of consumer buying and should it succeed in doing that, it would lead to a runaway inflation. These contradictions are often expressed by the same persons who fail to recognize them as contradictions. The Rockefeller Report on this subject is clear-cut and offers a platform upon which a debate can be held and a decision reached.

Congress is independent of the Administration, which, in the present situation, is beneficial to the country because what is most needed is debate, discussion, investigation, understanding. This debate is now taking place and ought to be reported across the country. The people ought to hear it all, because up to two actions that have to be taken by Congress at this session, the future of the country is involved, namely:

1. The Reorganization of Defense;

2. The decision about the tax cut.

The reorganization of the defense is not a new problem that arises in the Eisenhower Administration as a result of the Sputnik, as many believe. It has arisen after each war. For instance, in the Hoover Administration, the problem arose as to how to get rid of the horse. President Hoover regarded the horse as outmoded as a military instrument. But what would generals sit on? It was a long and bitter struggle, until Hoover appointed General MacArthur Chief of Staff, and MacArthur began the mechanization of the cavalry. Now generals do not sit on horses.

Roosevelt had an easy time with atomic fission. It came in war-time and was secret. Nobody knew about it but those who worked on the Manhattan Project and a few Russian spies. The money for it had to be found by secret and diverse ways. While no reorganization was involved, the Manhattan Project crossed departmental lines. Men were used for it who could do the job.

Atomic fission relates itself to the question of Reorganization in two ways:

1. It established a pattern of how a big job can be done while departmental lines are ignored. Had this system been employed in connection with rockets, missiles and satellites, we should not have been caught asleep by the Sputnik.

2. It brought into being a wholly new set of military instruments and techniques which

Braille Group Is Busy with Church Work

WHITTIER, Calif. (AP)—They call Post Office Box 899, Whittier, Calif., a symbol of Christian joy to blind people the world over.

It's the address of the Lutheran Braille Workers, Inc., a volunteer, nonprofit organization dedicated to the proposition that the blind shall miss none of the religious comforts of those who can see.

Last year, the Braille Workers mailed 14,000 Sunday school lessons, 12,000 Bible lessons and uncounted Easter and Christmas messages to some 5,000 blind persons and institutions in 48 states and 46 countries.

"You might think we have enough to do," says Mrs. Helene Loeve, its energetic, red-haired executive director, "but we can't ever do enough of this work. We really want the names of more blind people, adults or children."

Strangely enough, the Lutheran Braille Workers, Inc., grew out of the holocaust of World War II when the supply of German-language material in Braille was slashed drastically.

Fred Graepf of Fresno, Calif., blinded in an accident while studying for the ministry, wrote an article in a Lutheran publication asking for German-speaking volunteers who were willing to learn Braille.

In 15 years, the organization has grown into a corporation of 600 unpaid volunteer workers and material is gotten out in English, Spanish and Japanese in addition to German.

The Braille Workers are supported entirely by voluntary contribution.

Eyes May Signal Body Ills

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

So closely are our eyes related to the rest of our bodies that they are affected by almost every known disease.

They are, in effect, the barometers of the human system. Often, the eyes will signal trouble in some other portion of the body even before it can be detected in a general physical examination.

I've told you previously about some of the body illnesses which can be detected in the eyes. Now I'd like to discuss some others.

If your upper eyelid droops, for example, it may point to a nervous disorder. If not checked, this disorder might weaken other muscles as well.

If the white of an eye is yellow, it might indicate the gall-bladder is diseased.

The first symptom of goiter often is protruding eyeballs. And if the pupils are unusually small, it may be an indication of morphine addiction, although I don't want you accusing your friends of being dope addicts simply because their pupils may seem smaller than yours.

By studying the interior of the eye with an instrument called an ophthalmoscope, a physician or eye specialist may detect other serious ailments.

High blood pressure or hardening of the arteries of the body and brain might be indicated by twisted or narrowed blood vessels in the eye.

If the eye's blood vessels harden or hemorrhage, or if there is fluid swelling of the retina and eye nerve, it may mean kidney disease. Sometimes a swollen or inflamed optic nerve indicates a brain tumor. And if there is a tumor in the eye, it may mean there is cancer in some other part of the body.

All of which gives added support to a point which I have been trying to put across for years: Whether or not you wear glasses you should have your eyes checked frequently, at least once every two years.

Question and Answer

G. B.: I am 41. My nose is gradually becoming larger. It is forming lumps and looks somewhat purplish.

What can I do for it?

Answer: From your description you may be suffering from rhinophyma of the nose, which is due to a disorder of the oil glands of the nose. Usually a plastic surgeon can clear up this disease.

Ohio Axle Tax Take Increasing

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio has collected almost $2 million more so far this fiscal year from its axle mile tax on big trucks than it did in a similar period last year.

Returns from operators of trucks with three or more axles have reached almost $12 million for the state's bookkeeping year that started last July 1. A cleanup of late payments beyond the April 20 deadline for quarterly reports might boost collections to $12½ million.

New Western Show Slated On Television

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The Western street at Warner Bros. looked familiar, but the series was different.

This wasn't Cheyenne or Maverick or Sugarfoot or even Colt .45. They were making the first film for a new TV series called Laramie.

Starring as a veteran frontier lawman was John Russell, himself the veteran of another TV series, Soldiers of Fortune. His eagerbeaver assistant was young Peter Brown. And if you can judge by past performance on the Westerns, the two will be blazing guns side by side through dozens of films.

"The studio seemed to like the character I played in a Cheyenne," Russell reported. "He was an old gunman whose trigger finger was ossifying because of a nervous condition. He knew that when the next gunfight challenged him it might be his last fight."

"I play the same sort of fellow in Laramie with a little less gray in the hair."

How many more Westerns can TV absorb?

Warners seems to have no worries on this score. Cheyenne, Maverick and Sugarfoot have been doing fine in the audience ratings, and Colt .45 is doing tolerably.

may, and probably has, made conventional warfare obsolete.

Point one above, I think has been established; point two is still in the realm of doubt and discussion. The reason why this subject cannot be treated lightly is that if an error of judgment is made now, it cannot be corrected in time to avert disaster and will only be known should we be defeated in war.

These then are the problems which arise out of the balance of arms which the principal countries are trying to maintain. Amateurs jump to conclusions. For instance, those who believe that the pushbutton war definitely puts an end to infantry, the Navy and the Marine Corps may be right but they cannot prove their case by facts. Every war, since the Berlin Airlift, and the world had not known a day of peace since then, has been a local war, limited in scope, employing conventional weapons.

In the Korean War, for instance, the United States could have employed, but did not, atomic weapons; in the Indochina wars, no unconventional weapons were used; ditto for French-Algerian war; ditto for Israel-Egyptian struggles; ditto for Hungarian uprising. It would therefore seem to be too early to discard the conventional forces and Russia has not discarded them, although Great Britain has reduced her forces now that there is no Empire to defend.

G. B.: I am 41. My nose is gradually becoming larger. It is forming lumps and looks somewhat purplish.

What can I do for it?
Answer: From your description you may be suffering from rhinophyma of the nose, which is due to a disorder of the oil glands of the nose. Usually a plastic surgeon can clear up this disease.

Ohio Axle Tax Take Increasing

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio has collected almost $2 million more so far this fiscal year from its axle mile tax on big trucks than it did in a similar period last year.

Returns from operators of trucks with three or more axles have reached almost $12 million for the state's bookkeeping year that started last July 1. A cleanup of late payments beyond the April 20 deadline for quarterly reports might boost collections to $12½ million.

New Western Show Slated On Television

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The Western street at Warner Bros. looked familiar, but the series was different.

This wasn't Cheyenne or Maverick or Sugarfoot or even Colt .45. They were making the first film for a new TV series called Laramie.

Starring as a veteran frontier lawman was John Russell, himself the veteran of another TV series, Soldiers of Fortune. His eagerbeaver assistant was young Peter Brown. And if you can judge by past performance on the Westerns, the two will be blazing guns side by side through dozens of films.

"The studio seemed to like the character I played in a Cheyenne," Russell reported. "He was an old gunman whose trigger finger was quivering because of a nervous condition. He knew that when the next gunfight challenged him it might be his last fight."

"I play the same sort of fellow in Laramie with a little less gray in the hair."

How many more Westerns can TV absorb?

Warners seems to have no worries on this score. Cheyenne, Maverick and Sugarfoot have been doing fine in the audience ratings, and Colt .45 is doing tolerably.

Circleville Forum Enjoys Dinner Party At Wardell's

Members of the Circleville Forum enjoyed a dinner at Wardell's Party Home, the dinner being a particularly enjoyable affair due to the presence of their spouses. Attending the dinner were: Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Poling, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Dickinson, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Luton, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Matesky and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Vincent.

Mrs. Poling, program chairman, kept the evening in a light and amusing way by having Mr. Matesky and Mr. Luton discuss the new chemise dress in all aspects. The chemise was literally speaking beaten, mutilated and discussed as if it were a creation of the distant past and not of the present.

A few of the points discussed about the chemise were: Turn it around to make a maternity dress; only one size need be manufactured to fit all women; easily to make at home; can't lose shape—has none and can be used as a nightgown when out late.

To follow the example of an article written in McCall's magazine of a group who in a few minutes listed ways of trapping a husband, the group did a parity on "How to get rid of your spouse." Several of the ways mentioned were: financial nagging; never at home; gambling, drinking, not the way mother did, make wife support family, refuse to give husband allowance, golf at least four times a week, make husband help with housework, TV bug, and etc.

To conclude the program each of the wives gave a short synopsis on how they courted and won their husbands with the exception of Mr. Dickinson who didn't trust his wife's version of their courtship, hence he gave the only masculine story of courtship and marriage.

Mr. Ragan, Guest Speaker For Sorosis Club Monday

The Sorosis Club members were treated to a look into the fabulous DuPont product "Mylar," Monday evening. Mr. William Ragan, Williamsport, a DuPont employe, talked to the group. By means of a film in color, the story of Mylar was unfolded.

It is a thin, clear, transparent shiny product, developed through chemical processes at the Circleville plant. It has many uses valuable to industry, manufacturers, as well as to the housewife. It has unbelievable tensile strength; has insulating qualities for electrical use; it has thermal qualities, offering protection from heat as well as from cold.

It can strengthen typewriter ribbons; recording tape, photograph-ic film. Its threads are woven into cloth; it is a sturdy wrapping for many products for retailing. Many of these were displayed by Mr. Ragan.

Mrs. Edward Gahn presided at the meeting and conducted a short business session. The club voted to donate to the Cancer fund and the Easter Sales fund. One new member, Miss Clarabelle Whitten, was welcomed.

Mrs. Carl Hooks was the hostess and her assistants were Mrs. Jack Brayshaw, Mr. Rodney Betts, Mrs. Paul Counts, Mrs. Charles Lawson, Mrs. Gerald Reynolds, Mrs. S. T. Schleich, Mrs. Ray Hooks and Mrs. Harry Kern, served refreshments during the social hour.

Annual Silver Tea Held By Assn. of Women's Clubs

The Pickaway County Assn. of Women's Club held its annual Silver Tea Wednesday evening in the Presbyterian Church with 30 members attending.

Feature entertainment for the evening was provided by the Westminster players under the direction of Mrs. David Yates. They presented "Six Who Pass While the Lentils Boil," an allegorical playlet by Stuart Walker. The theme deals with the personal trial of a boy to be faithful to a promise and the reward gained by his successful efforts.

The play admonishes, in the manner of Aesop's Fables, that "If you broke a promise for a pail of gold and two finger rings, you would never see a beautiful noble with a crown of gold when you closed your eyes."

The cast of characters included: Gary Winner, giving the prologue; John Grigg, the De-vi-ce Bearer; Terry Robinson, the boy; Lynn Reichelderfer, the queen; Judy Reithmiller, the butterfly; Dan Robinson, the Mime; Marilyn Springer, the milkmaid; David Young, the blindman; Sharon Hull, the ballad singer; Douglas McCoard, the dreadful headsman and David Hannas, you (the audience).

At the conclusion of the play a piano solo, "Amor" was presented by Jack Mader. Several musical selections by Mrs. Marilyn Barroffio and Miss Mary Jo Jasper were also planned but unexpected developments prevented their appearance.

Following the program, Mrs. Lawrence Johnson presided at the tea table, which was graced with an arrangement of magnolias. Mrs. Charles Thompson, a member of the Pickaway Garden Club, provided the centerpiece for the occasion.

Mrs. Dick Robinson and Mrs. Ray Carroll were co-chairmen of the social committee for the affair.

The final business session of the year is slated for May 28, at which time there will be election of officers. All delegates are asked to be present at this meeting.

Excitingly New Octagon Shape Redwood Tub

By BARBARA

While browsing around downtown we came across something excitingly new. One of the local stores is displaying quite a new angle on flower pots for these large house plants—an octagon shape redwood tub.

The tubs come in several sizes. The large size is nice in case you have several plants you would like to show off.

Small stands with rollers come separately with the tubs. The stand makes it convenient for a person to move the plant from place to place.

Milk glass seems to be real popular again this season. It now comes in pastel shades of baby pink or blue.

A new pattern by Fostoria "Vintage" seems to be popular. A cluster of grapes is shown on each piece. Also in the milk glass they have a square cookie or candy jar with cute little figures on each side.

Today is the day if any housewife would like to replace any of your sheets. A local store is cutting 20 cents off the regular price of muslin sheets. You may have the choice of white or striped.

Also the same store they are listing quite a few bargains on other merchandise. If you happen to be downtown drop in and browse around.

Mothers do you have a time trying to entertain your little ones on these rainy days? We have found an idea that will keep them busy for a little while. Take a paper bag and cut holes in it for eyes, nose, and mouth and see how much fun they will have putting it over their heads.

Some small folks like their paper bags without holes. They seem to be in a world all of their own.

Those Yankees Aren't Perfect After All

Ex-Yankee Woodling's Big Blow Sets Back AL Champions by 2-1

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Well whaddya know! Those New York Yankees ain't perfect after all. And Gene Woodling should find things a bit more pleasant in Baltimore from now on.

Woodling, the ex-Yankee who was booted out of Baltimore three seasons ago, was traded to Cleveland, and now is back with the Orioles, improved public relations immensely Friday night. It was his pinch-hit, two-out, two-strike double in the ninth that turned a shutout into a 2-1 victory.

Friday's was the second consecutive game in which the defending American League champs blew a lead in the ninth. It was shortstop Gil McDougald who made the boots in both losses.

Friday night, he bobbled a lead-off grounder by Dick Williams in the ninth. A fielder's choice, a walk to fleet Jim Busby and Woodling's Yankee style clutch hit broke up a wonderful duel between right-hander Connie Johnson of the Orioles and Whitey Ford, the Yankees' stubby southpaw.

Both finished with five-hitters, with Ford striking out eight and Johnson six. Both now are 1-1.

The Washington Senators moved into second, a game behind the Yankees, on Pete Ramos' six-hit, 2-0 victory at Boston. The Chicago White Sox escaped the cellar and dropped Kansas City to a close third by beating the A's 6-5 in 12. Cleveland smacked Detroit 12-2.

Mickey Vernon drove in five runs for Cleveland, four with a third-inning home run. The Tribe then counted six in the fourth with Bobby Ayala and Minnie Minoso both driving in two while chasing Jim Bunning to his second defeat. Ray Narleski won his second, both over the Tigers and Bunning. He allowed the Tigers just six hits, struck out four.

Ramos gained his third major league shutout and second against the Red Sox. The young right-hander fanned seven for a 2-0 record, both against Boston.

The White Sox, who had lost five straight, scored three in the ninth for a tie, then beat reliever Walt Craddock on Luis Aparicio's one-out single in the 12th. Bill Fischer, who came on in the ninth, won his first with four-innings of no-hit relief.

The rookies are really giving those rookie crowds a treat in San Francisco and Los Angeles.

The San Francisco Giants, winning their third straight, climbed into the National League lead Friday night with a 2-0 victory over the Chicago Cubs. Right-hander Ray Monahan, no rookie but a youngster, gained his first major league shutout with a four-hitter while rookie Bob Schmidt tripled and scored the first run, on Monahan's single, and rookie Orlando Cedeno drove in the second.

At Los Angeles, rookie Norm Larker drove in a pair of runs while rookie southpaw Fred Kipp won his first as a NL record night game crowd of 90,636 sat in on the Dodgers' 5-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Milwaukee's world champion Braves gained a share of second with the Cubs, a half-game behind, as ex-Cub Bob Rush tossed a three-hit shutout for a 4-0 decision over Philadelphia. Pittsburgh clipped Cincinnati 4-3.

Tigers Halt Franklin Heights In 4-2 Loop Baseball Contest

Two runs in the fourth and two in the sixth were all the Circleville Tigers needed to register win number eight in a 4-2 contest at Franklin Heights yesterday.

Hitting star of the day was second baseman Don Rowland who cracked three for three and drove in three of the Tiger runs.

Also used as a pitcher when needed, Rowland pushed his batting average for the season over the .400 mark.

Tiger hurler Mike Hosler had a no-hitter going for six innings. However, the first man up in the seventh singled and the next swat-tered followed with a triple.

These were the only two safeties allowed by Hosler who then bore down to put out the seventh inning fire. He fanned 13 and walked only two.

Circleville, meanwhile, was collecting 10 hits but couldn't bunch them for more than four runs. FH hurler Richardson made it tough on Tiger scoring by pitching the contest without allowing a walk.

Hosler started the Tiger rally in the fourth with a double. Harry Strawser followed with a single and Rowland drove in both with a solid single.

In the sixth, catcher John Wright singled and Rowland chased him home with another single. Rowland then stole second and centerfielder Jim Woods sent him home with a single.

Franklin Heights collected its final tally in the seventh when Richardson singled for the opponent's first hit and pinchhitter Wean drove him across with a mighty triple. Hosler appeared to be in trouble when he walked Gaines, the next batter, to put the tying runs on base.

The Tiger hurler then bore down to fan the next two batters and force the third man to ground out.

It was a rather loose fielding game for the Tigers who committed three errors, the most in a single game this year. Franklin Heights also was charged with three bobbles.

Circleville's record now stands at 8-2 for the season. Four of the wins have been in South Central Ohio League play.

The Tigers' next outing is scheduled Tuesday when Hillsboro comes here for a loop test.

Glamorous Frau Willy Sets Tongues Wagging in Berlin

By SEMOUR TOPPING
AP Staff Writer

BERLIN (AP)—Germany's society dowagers are learning about modern glamor from a youthful Berlin housewife.

Frau Willy Brandt, wife of the new Socialist Lord Mayor of West Berlin, has landed with a fashionable splash among the staid sombre-clad ladies of the top government set. Not so long ago, the dowager tongues clucked when the beautiful Norwegian-born Lord Mayor would appear at official parties in one of her stunning stiletto sheath gowns.

It was hard to take for stiff-necked traditionalists who still live by the rule that German matrons should be concerned with little more than "kitchen, children, and church."

"They thought I was only interested in fashions," recalled Frau Brandt with a twinkle.

But now the ripples in the drawing rooms have just about faded away. The Berliners have taken to the Lord Mayor.

Frau Brandt is popular not only as the new lady of glamor but also as the good hausfrau who leaves politics to her handsome 44-year-old husband.

A visit to the Brandts, and their two sons, Peter, 9, and Lars, 6, at the Lord Mayor's mansion is full of surprises.

Invited to drop in, the writer drove past the Brandts twice before discovering that the "mansion" was the little grey stucco two-family house with the boys' bicycle parked before the door.

The Lord Mayor's smiling blue eyes answered the doorbell and took my coat.

Frau Brandt's husband, whose meteoric rise parallels the career of America's Vice President Richard Nixon, ranks high. As Lord Mayor of this big outpost city of two million people behind the Iron Curtain, he also serves as president of West Germany's upper parliamentary house.

But the Brandts, despite their $852 a month income, have chosen to keep on living in their rented four-room apartment. In housing-short Berlin where some families live jammed into one room, this has not gone unnoticed.

"I'm happy to cook, wash and clean my own house," says Frau Brandt.

For big official parties, the Lord Mayor and his wife have the use of West Berlin's Government House.

The Brandts are deluged by invitations. "When we are asked out," confessed Frau Brandt, "I call my husband and ask 'Do we have to?' If he says 'no,' then I prefer to stay home with the boys.

"I love pretty clothes like most women. I do my shopping in the Berlin houses and I find their clothes more wearable than those from Paris.

"Sack line? Yes. But not the Trapeze line for me. It's only for very young girls."

Frau Brandt, the former Rut Hansen, was born in Harma, a little town 75 miles north of Oslo, the youngest of four daughters.

Her father died when she was 3 and her mother worked in a dairy to support the family.

As the young widow of a Norwegian Railway official, she met Brandt in Stockholm in 1944 when both were refugees from the Nazis.

It wasn't easy at first for Frau Brandt to adopt her husband's snative land — so soon after World War II and the Nazi occupation of Norway.

"At first I hated Berlin," Frau Brandt admitted. "I looked at every German and asked myself: 'Was he a Nazi?'"

"But then came the Russian blockade and I saw what stuff the Berliners have in them. And I said to myself: 'I can live here.'"

"Now," said Frau Brandt, "I love Berlin."

And from all indications, Berlin has come to love its glamorous Lord Mayor.

Banished Lady Will Never Forgive Prince

NICE, France (AP)—Lady Docker, banished from the playgrounds of Monaco and the French Riviera, flew off to London today full of outrage.

She wept a little but bore up fairly well under the decree of expulsion by Prince Rainier III of Monaco, who ruled the fun-loving, free-spending lady had insulted his principality by tearing up a paper replica of Monaco's flag.

She was angry because her son could not get an invitation to the baptism reception for Prince Albert, infant son of Prince Rainier and Princess Grace.

She kissed everyone within range—hotel employees, an airways man, and a baggage handler—pulled her mink coat around her shoulders, and walked up the steps of the plane. With her were her industrialist husband, Sir Bernard, and their son Lance, 19.

"This is only an au revoir," Lady Docker told the crowd of newspapermen, hotel workers and airport officials. "I'll be back."

Through treaty arrangements with France, the banishment was extended to the adjacent French Riviera.

"I am at war with Rainier, not with Grace," Lady Docker said. "If the princess had known I wanted an invitation for my son, she would have given me one. Rainier has the right to do what he wants in his own country, but it is unpardonable to have him upset our beautiful vacation at Cannes. For that I will never pardon him."

2 Life Terms Given Slayer Of 2 Girls

DAYTON (AP)—Robert Crites, 31, was given two consecutive life terms in Ohio Penitentiary Friday after pleading guilty to two counts of first degree murder in the slaying of his two teen-age sweethearts.

The two girls, Beverly Eldred, 17, and her roommate, Deanne Jean Fouch, 16, both of Dayton, were killed Nov. 10 on a nearby Montgomery County road.

Police said Crites, 31, gave himself up shortly afterwards and admitted the slayings. They quoted Crites as saying he was in love with Deanne, but had promised to marry Beverly. Officers said Crites told them he shot the girls because they were taking his money and because he didn't want them to do the same to some other man. Attorneys for Crites entered his plea before a three-judge court of Montgomery County Common Pleas Judges Robert Martin, Robert Lee Mills and Don R. Thomas. Judge Martin, who presided, said the court will hear testimony from several witnesses, including psychiatrists from Lima State Hospital, before sentencing Crites. Crites was sent to the Lima hospital for observation and last February was adjudged sane.

'SACRIFICE ALL' — Expecting a full-scale invasion of the Sumatran revolutionary heartland by Indonesian troops supported by naval and air power, rebel forces were called upon to "sacrifice all" in repelling the attack. ## In April, 'Daffodil Lady' Remembers Her Old Garden

"If once you loved a garden—That's not your garden now—Yellow crocus in the grass—And budding lilac bough—April's a remembering time—You will always know—Green splashed gold of daffodils—Where they used to grow!" So goes the poem, "Lost Gardens" by Louise Driscoll and April is indeed a remembering time for Mrs. Guy Zurmehly, the "daffodil lady" who now lives in the Kinderhook area, Route 2, Circleville.

Although Mrs. Zurmehly has myriads of daffodils along the yard fence of her present home and under the big maples and near the quaint brick farm house—come April she keeps thinking of the orchard and the daffodils at the old place. There under the apple trees in the orchard adjoining the yard the soft spoken blue-eyed farm woman had her daffodils naturalized. At flowering time her daffodils blossomed by the thousands. When word got around the Chillicothe neighborhood (Mrs. Zurmehly formerly lived near Clarksburg) that her daffodils were blooming, she had visitors by the hundreds.

MANY PEOPLE would stop for a long satisfying look and a chat. Many strangers hearing about the flowers just drove slowly past. "One year," Mrs. Zurmehly recalls, "the newspaper mentioned that I gave bulbs to everybody who stopped—and I almost always did. But that year I really did have a plague of callers." The "daffodil lady" doesn't know where the people came from but they came, most of them strangers with baskets and boxes. Mrs. Zurmehly had enough bulbs to supply them all.

According to Mrs. Zurmehly the best planting in the orchard did not cost too much. She got her first start from a collection of nine varieties, five bulbs of each from a nursery in Pennsylvania. When she noticed that the bulbs were increasing she took one bulb and planted it some place else. The "daffodil lady" brings good tidings to flower-minded farm women, who all too often fight a losing battle with wandering livestock.

CATTLE and sheep dislike daffodils. They eat the surrounding grass but leave the daffodils. In case an absent minded "bossy" gets some foliage by mistake she takes a few bites and then discards it. "Sheep," Mrs. Zurmehly confided happily, "kept the weeds down but never touched the daffodils. Daffodils are poison to moles too." When questioned about rooting pigs, Mrs. Zurmehly did not know what pigs did to daffodils but felt that might be a different story.

As far as the "Daffodil Lady" is concerned the mowing machine is the worst enemy that flowers have. "Mow off the foliage and you weaken the bulb," she said.

In the garden that Mrs. Zurmehly remembers with so much pleasure, she first had the bulbs planted in the back of the orchard. There they thrived.

She frequently took baskets of the flowers to help at church functions or school banquets. Everybody wanted to know where she had so many flowers. As time progressed she moved bulbs to the front of the orchard where people could see them.

THE "Daffodil Lady," who has been a fancier of narcissi for more than 30 years, had an unorthodox way of planting in the old garden. She never waited for the foliage to yellow as the books recommend. Any time she had a few minutes off she was out in the orchard with her spade digging and planting.

Sometimes it was muddy; sometimes it was raining and sometimes it would be so hot and dry the spade would hardly go into the ground. But always the bulbs flourished.

Today Mrs. Zurmehly has beautiful daffodils. Her varieties are far finer than those she had in the old garden. She has quite a few rare specimens and she's satisfied with the quality of her blossoms. She's still the "Daffodil Lady". If you want to dwell on some good daffodil talk, go see her.

But the present site isn't too well suited to naturalizing. Even though she has wonderful daffodils now, Mrs. Zurmehly's blue eyes take on a wistful look when she talks about the old garden. Come April it's "remembering time".

Divide Daffodils When Crowded

Narcissus bulbs often increase very rapidly and when the bulbs have become too crowded they should be lifted, divided and replanted as soon as the foliage has yellowed.

In naturalistic plantings where the size and perfection of the bloom are not a matter of great importance, the bulbs may be left undisturbed for a period of many years.

In the garden it is advisable to divide every six or eight years as the blooms have a tendency to become smaller and the bulbs less thrifty if overcrowded.

Local Farmer Has Interest In Daffodils

Jerry Bartley, a flower loving farmer who lives in a saltbox house on the road from Tarlton to Thatcher says he has 75 varieties of daffodils, most of which were in bloom last Sunday.

The Bartley narcissi are planted along his fence, around his house and in a border between his yard and garden.

Bartley does not bother to label his daffodils. He is very casual about his flowers — "just plants 'em because he likes 'em." He rarely divides his bulbs when they get thick. In short, Jerry Bartley has found a flower that gives a lot of satisfaction without too much work involved.

While not a large planting, Bartley has some excellent specimens. He was justly proud of a daffodil which he identified as "Siam" and belongs to the newer pink group. Siam is a long trumpet daffodil of a subtle apricot color.

ANOTHER of Bartley's fine specimen flowers was Duke of Windsor.

He's liked daffodils for a long time, but iris are his real favorites.

He has iris planted in rows in his garden. Each one is labeled with a number. The numbers, of course, represent names. He has 103 varieties.

Bartley, brother of Floyd Bartley and Mrs. Kirby Drake, has the family love of nature.

The bulletin is the work of the entomology department, Ohio State University.

D. Lyle Galemman, extension entomologist, says that damage done to ornamentals, lawns and flower and vegetable gardens by insects can be prevented by home gardeners.

Galemman writes about dusting versus spraying, equipment and measuring of materials.

The bulletin is general in scope. But County Agent, George Hamrick and his associate, C. J. Cunningham, will advise you on your specific garden problems.

Ohio Highways In Real Need Of Landscaping

By ROBERT COLE
Cole Nurseries

Planting along highways is probably the only expenditure the government makes which actually increases in value to the taxpayers each year.

As small plants grow, they become more valuable, more beautiful and make the highways safer.

Speaking of highways, I'm sure many of you have driven through the beautifully landscaped roads in such states as New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania. After seeing their magnificent highways with few billboards and then coming back to Ohio where practically nothing is spent to beautify the highways, it is quite a letdown.

Ohio's drab highways could not only be made more interesting with some landscaping, but also much safer by planting median strips on divided highways to cut headlight glare and stop cars from crossing dividers when drivers go to sleep.

NOW that Ohio is embarking on a vast new highway system, it is time that all interested Ohioans ask for more beautiful and safe highways.

Charles M. Noble, secretary to the governor, whose address is State Office Bldg., Columbus, is always interested in what the people are thinking and would be glad to receive any comments you might have on beautifying and making the highways more safe.

Brehmer Says Not To Mow Bulb Foliage

Spare the crocus, tulip, hyacinth and other bulb flowers when you mow the lawn. The tops of these flowers must be permitted to grow until the leaves turn yellow, in order to build strong bulbs for blooming another year.

Newly planted maple and dogwood trees in particular should have their trunks wrapped with weatherproof paper to prevent

Garden Gossip

Mrs. Roy Strawser, Route 4, Circleville, noticed a flock of unusual birds in a field on the Strawser farm. According to Floyd Bartley, Pickaway County naturalist and a neighbor of the Strawser, the birds were golden plover on a stop-over during their migratory flight from the Arctic to the Arctic—a small matter of 2,400 miles round-trip. The gentlemen in the group were striking in their contrasting black and white attire. The females were golden in color.

There's no lovelier sight in Circleville than the Japanese Cherry tree in the Ed Wallace yard on North Court St. The tree is old and is a large specimen. The manner in which it leans over Hargus Creek adds to its charm.

Mrs. Mack Moore, 113 Mill St., is pleased with the performance of her single peony which she moved last fall. In 1957 the plant only had one bloom. She moved it away from the Maple tree roots that were sapping away its food and moisture. This spring it is covered with buds.

Reed A. Massey, landscape architect for the garden restoration at Adena, says Adena's old-fashioned roses will be blooming a little earlier this year. He looks for the peak of bloom about the middle of May. The tulips at Adena are blooming this week. Adena opened April 1.

Edith Minor whose folks have moved to the old Joe Porter farm, Route 4, Circleville, says that all kinds of exciting garden plants are making their appearance there. One interesting plant she described was identified as the old fashioned Chinese tree peony. The Porter farm has always had two specimens of this lovely and rare form of peony. Tree peonies need a protected location, among other things. Earlier than other peonies, frost often spoils the blooms.

Mrs. Eddie Montgomery, 108 Seyfert Ave. has no quarrel with the lastings of tulip bulbs. The Montgomerys had a planting of Red Emperor tulips which lasted five years. Last year they sort of played out and the Montgomerys put in a new planting. Mrs. Montgomery thinks that five years is not too bad a record.

Miss Marvane Howard has a young specimen of Japanese Weeping cherry in bloom now. A very pretty sight, her friends say. It's a back yard tree.

Incidentally, now is the time to stroll through Circleville's alleys to catch a glimpse of quaint backyard gardens at their best.

Mary Shortridge, Route 2, Circleville, says her twin calves competed with her daffodils as far as visitors were concerned. She was proud of the twins until Mrs. Forrest Short announced the birth of triplet calves on their farm. Mighty cute, we hear.

sunscald, which provides a starting place for wood borers which can destroy the trees.

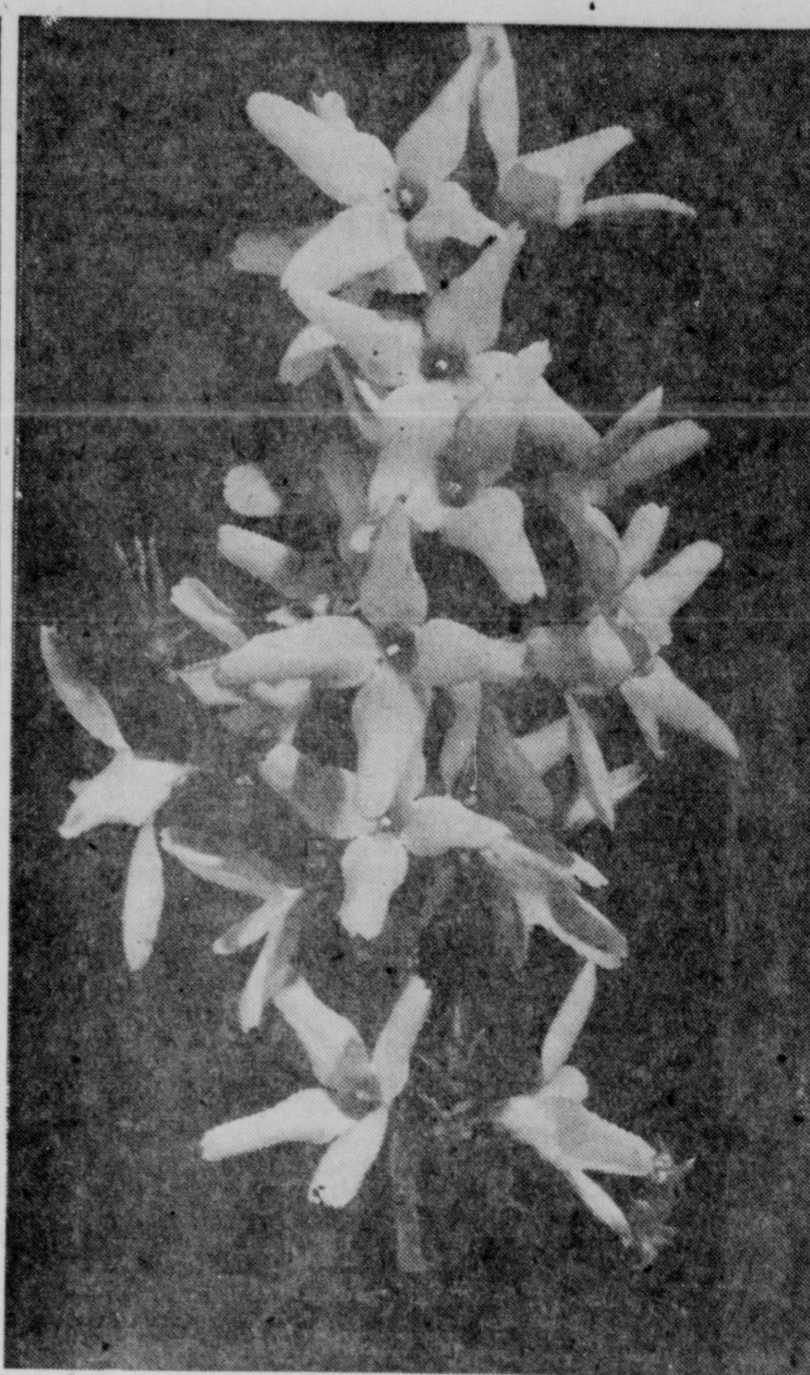

To prevent borer damage to peach trees, paint the trunk of the tree with a milky solution of DDT.

When spring and summer days get hot, turn the hose into the tops of your evergreens, using a strong mist. This will wash down the dead foliage and promote the growth of dormant buds.

IT ALSO serves to discourage red spider, which multiplies rapidly when it is hot and dry. They do not like moisture. Frequent syringing with plain water is more effective than any of the various spray formulas.

Beware of the itinerant landscape doctors who try to sell you home owners secret potions for fancied ailments of your shade trees and evergreens, at fancy prices.

The local agricultural extension agent or greenhouse owner or nurseryman can usually furnish the information you need or it may be obtained from the proper department at any university.

Forsythia Is Excellent Companion for Daffodils

Pussy willows may be the companion of the very early daffodils. But forsythia, the glorious yellow shrub sometimes called golden bells, is in bloom at the same time that most of the later daffodils are in their glory. No spring team gives greater satisfaction and joy than forsythia planted as a background for myriads of yellow daffodils. Forsythia is an easily grown shrub not often bothered with pests.

The newer varieties bloom very profusely. The well known old world varieties frequently annoy gardeners by giving only straggly bloom during some seasons.

Often lack of bloom is attributed to late freezing which destroys the bloom buds but does not injure the plant.

EVIDENTLY the weather was just right in Pickaway County for never has the forsythia been more full of bloom.

Pruning should be done immediately after the flowering season and besides removing old canes, all long pendulous canes should be cut back moderately. Removal of the old wood permits the new wood to set flower buds.

Three of the newer forsythia varieties are: Beatrix Ferrand which originated in Boston's Arnold Arboretum; Lynwood Gold, a deep yellow variety that originated in Ireland and Spring Glory, a beautiful pale yellow, which is fast becoming popular with gardeners.

April is no time for gardeners to shirk. Get your shade and fruit trees, shrubs, hedges, evergreens, bare root dormant rose bushes, asparagus and strawberries in this month.

As far as vegetable seeds are concerned, there are certain types that demand April sowing. Peas, radishes, lettuce, beets, carrots, mustard greens, spinach and onions must be sown within the next few days.
